

We're Not Afraid To Build A Better Cotton Ball

Posted on June 12, 2013

Who blogs about cotton balls? Well, we do. It's, um, kind of our job.

Of course, when one thinks of cotton supplies for salons and spas, the cotton ball probably comes to mind first. It's been around forever and it has a gazillion uses. And also, let's be honest: cotton balls are kind of cute. Don't agree? Then check out this video and get back to us.

Look, just because it's a cotton ball doesn't mean we're not trying to improve it. Our new Medium Cotton Balls, offered in 100 or 300-count, are the best. In fact, we challenge you to find a worthier one to handle your general cleansing duties, or for applying astringents or toners. Seriously, we dare you. We seriously double-dog dare you.
